

Sommerhuber Lounger Two Plus in the GOCO Spa - JW Marriott Venice Resort & Spa

In the middle of 2015, JW Marriott opened its new luxurious resort & spa on the private island Isola delle Rose situated only a few minutes away from Saint Mark's Square. The design came from the well-known Italian architecture and design office Matteo Thun.

We are glad that the prestigious spa specialist GOCO Hospitality has chosen our ceramic heated lounger "Lounger Two Plus" for the vitality pool area of this unique spa.

The spa presented with the Senses Award for "Best New European Spa 2015" as well as the Wellness Travel Awards 2015 for "Best Beauty & Anti-Aging" and "Best Wow Factor" only a few months after the opening.

Relaxation and Design perfectly presented

The heated Lounger Two Plus with Sommerhuber heat storing ceramics does not only excel by its esthetics and hygiene but it also supports the vitality and vigor due to the healthy heat radiation. It provides for a perfect relaxation with its clear and reduced design vocabulary and its ergonomic, velvety-soft surfaces. The gentle radiant heat of the ceramics has a soothing effect, boosts the circulation, dissolves muscle tensions and has a positive effect on the immune system.
